Rouse Home Upgraded by DPW, Gets Additional $30,000 Yearly

The Rouse Home at Youngsville will receive more than $30,000 additional funds annually, following action taken by the Department of Public Welfare, Harrisburg.

The announcement was made by Rep. William W. Allen, who said that he had been asked by the county commissioners to secure a change of category in Harrisburg on the basis of the many changes which have been made at the home. Through the joint efforts of Allen and the commissioners, a re-evaluation of the home resulted in upgrading of the institution by the DPW.

The home's classification has been raised from Class II to Class III under the Public Assistance Nursing Home Care program of the state.

At the present time, the home has 65 guests under the nursing home care program and receives $210 a month for each under Class II. Under Class III, this will be boosted to $250 per month per guest under the program.

Assemblyman Allen was notified by Mrs. Helen D. Metz,

RN, assistant director of the Bureau of Adult Institutions, DPW, of the upgrading of Rouse Home.

Mrs. Metz said that a visit was made to the home and it was determined that the classification could be increased. She noted since the completion of the new building at the home and renovation of the annex, the bed complement has been increased to 148.

There are now about 130 guests in the Rouse Home. Assemblyman Allen noted that there were several other factors that led to the upgrading. Besides the better facilities and general remodeling and building, he cited management, home programs, registered nurses available for patient care. He described the home as one of the very finest of its type in the state.

The home at the present time receives $90 a month for each person under old age care; $86 a month for each under aid to disabled, and $81 a month for each under general assistance.

Battleship New Jersey Shells North Viet Targets

ABOARD USS NEW JERSEY, off Vietnam (AP) — The great battleship New Jersey came out of mothballs with a vengeance Monday, hurling 2,700-pound shells from the South China Sea at North Vietnamese targets 12 miles away.

She fired 29 rounds from her

16-inch guns in three missions during the day, plus 45 rounds from her 5-inch secondary battery. There was no answering fire.

Air observers reported four automatic weapons positions and one artillery emplacement were destroyed, 30 yards of trenchline caved in and a road cut in two places.

Reactivation of the 58,000-ton New Jersey in August 1967 was a $50 million experiment. The Navy is trying to disprove a current theory that her guns are too large and targets too few to justify the cost of maintaining the battleship and its crew of 1,400.

A Marine A4 Skyhawk jet pinpointed the enemy targets through a withering antiaircraft fire as New Jersey's guns belched 65-foot clouds of smoke. It took exactly 64 seconds for the shells to hit the targets 12 miles away.

School Reorganization Results In More Effective Offerings

Administratively, reorganization of Warren County schools into a single district has resulted in better service and increasingly effective educational offerings for each dollar spent, reports Dr. Thomas K. Barratt, superintendent.

For example, Dr. Barratt said, in the county school district last year $21.16 was spent per pupil for administration, whereas the average Second Class District spent $23.58 and the state average per pupil was $25.19.

Since the reorganization three years ago, personnel of the former school district offices now more effectively use time and talents to improve the educational program for the county's 11,000 pupils, Dr. Barratt said.

"The number of square feet devoted to central administration has remained fairly constant. Formerly, 4,600 square feet and now 5,000 is used for instructional and service areas in school plants formerly used by chief school administrators.

"The number of central chief school administrative personnel has remained constant . . . about 15 . . . the services and operations improved, the clerical and secretarial staff reduced from 12 full-time and 16 part-time to 15 full-time.

This summary, Dr. Barratt continued, indicates that the central office of the Warren County School District is actually offering improved service with fewer personnel, while occupying an area similar to that required prior to reorganization.

Ground Breaking Slated Today

Ground will be broken this afternoon for a garden apartment complex in Pleasant Township, it was announced today by the Warren County Chamber of Commerce.

Allegheny Outdoor Club Names Bill Rusin President

Meeting at the YMCA last night, the Allegheny Outdoor Club formally adopted the name it has been using since it was organized, elected officers, completed plans to construct a trail from Sandstone Springs to the Allegheny River, and laid plans for activities to be conducted during October and November.

Officers elected so that a permit arrangement could be worked out with the Allegheny National Forest were: Bill Rusin, president; Ruth Samuelson, secretary, and Bridget Rusin, treasurer.

Representing the ANF at the meeting, Norm Kohler, ranger, finalized the preliminary arrangements to allow Larry Larson, scout master, and his Troop 26 of Lander to do the initial work on the trail that will provide hikers, cross-country skiers, snowshoers, and visitors to the area with a comfortable foot trail all the way from Sandstone Springs to the river.

While no definite dates were set for fall activities, several proposals were considered and will be scheduled by mid-month.

Firemen Respond On the Double

A test turned into a run for Warren firemen Monday afternoon. Firemen went to Warren General Hospital at 4:42 p.m. but their services were not required.

Firemen said a test was being run at the hospital and a member of the hospital personnel thought it was the real thing and turned in an alarm.

Firemen reported back at the station in eight minutes.

Humphrey Says He'll Halt Bombs If Elected in Nov.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Hubert H. Humphrey—dramatically moving his presidential campaign from the shadow of Johnson Administration war policy—said Monday night he would be willing to stop the bombing of North Vietnam "as an acceptable risk for peace."

Humphrey, in a nationwide television speech on foreign policy, expressed belief a bombing halt could lead "to success in the negotiations and a shorter war."

The vice president slightly toughened his statement as he delivered it from the way it was written.

The text said "I would be willing to stop the bombing."

But Humphrey "in his delivery, said 'I would stop the bombing.'"

"This," Humphrey added in his prepared remarks, "would be the best protection for our troops."

The vice president, however, appeared to add a modifier.

He said that in "weighing the risk" and "before taking action" as president he would place key importance on evidence—"direct or indirect, by deed or word"—of Communist willingness to restore the demilitarized zone between the North and South.

"If the government of North Vietnam were to show bad faith," he added, "I would reserve the right to resume the bombing."

Humphrey was said to feel his statement was a significant departure from Administration policy.

The vice president, trailing his opponent, Richard M. Nixon in the polls, has been urged by many supporters to take a stand on Vietnam independent of the Administration to show he is his "own man" and to attract the anti-war group within the Democratic Party.

In Washington, the White House declined comment on Humphrey's change of course.

Humphrey said he was paying

Nixon Declines Comment On Opponent's Statement

DETROIT (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said Monday night he would appoint as chief justice of the United States someone who believes the high court should interpret—and not write—the law.

The Republican Presidential nominee made the comment on a television discussion show aired in Michigan.

After the show, Nixon declined comment when newsmen questioned him about Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's statement that he would under certain circumstances be willing to stop the bombing in North Vietnam.

"I of course do not want to say anything until I read the text of it," he said referring to Humphrey's statement.

Then as Nixon ducked into his car, a newsmen asked, "Then you haven't changed your position since the other day," referring to a bombing halt, which Nixon opposes. Nixon replied, "No, but declined to amplify his remarks, it wasn't clear from the context of the question whether Nixon was aware the newsmen was referring to a bombing halt."

A questioner on a panel selected by Nixon's staff asked Nixon's views on Chief Justice Earl Warren. A Senate cloture vote on the debate over the man President Johnson selected to replace Abe Fortas, is scheduled for Tuesday.

Nixon replied that he believes a justice should be a "strict constructionist" when it comes to the constitution.

"I don't care if a man is a conservative or a liberal," he said. But he added "I think the court should interpret the law, I don't think it should go over and write the law."

Rusk Opens Series of Talks On International Issues

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened a series of high level meetings Monday with a private talk with Secretary-General U Thant on the Middle East and other pressing international issues.

While the immediate spotlight was on the threat of a new war between Israel and the Arabs, the Rusk-Thant talk of more than an hour covered Thant's proposal for a Big Four summit meeting, Vietnam and Czechoslovakia.

Rusk had an afternoon appointment with Abba Eban, the Israeli foreign minister, and will see Arab leaders and foreign ministers from almost 80 countries in the next 10 days. They are gathering in New York for the 23rd session of the General Assembly, which opens general policy debate Wednesday.

In advance of the Eban-Rusk meeting Israeli sources discounted reports that Eban had in his pocket precise proposals for a Middle East peace settlement.

These informants made clear that Israel was placing first emphasis on safeguarding its frontiers in any settlement with the Arabs. Eban will deal with general principles rather than go into territorial matters when he addresses the assembly on Oct. 8, the sources added.

The U.S. position was that it still hoped that Gunnar Jarring, Thant's Swedish special envoy, would work out a plan along the lines set out in a Security Council resolution last November. But U.S. sources added that the United States was open to any constructive new ideas.

Rusk talked for 65 minutes with Thant, and told reporters afterward it was a "lively and interesting" session.

The United States has reacted negatively to Thant's proposal that Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart and French Foreign Minister Michel Debre arrange for a Big Four meeting while in New York.

Neither Vietnam and Czechoslovakia is on the formal agenda of the 125-nation assembly, but they are expected to be taken up in the policy debate.

For the first time, Rusk will deliver the U.S. policy speech in the Assembly on Wednesday. In the past the U.S. chief delegate has made the speech, but George W. Ball resigned that post last week and his successor-designate, James Russell Wiggins, has not yet been approved by the U.S. Senate.

Rusk talked for an hour on U.N. matters with Emilio Arenales of Guatemala, president of the assembly, before meeting Thant.

Rasmussen Retires from Bank; Torrance Named WNB President

A. L. Rasmussen, president of the Warren National Bank, retires today after forty-eight years of service with that institution. He will be succeeded as president by James C. Torrance who joined the bank staff in 1946.

Mr. Rasmussen started his banking career as a bookkeeper in 1920 and moved through various positions until he was elected president in January, 1949.

For many years he has been active in state and national banking affairs, having served as a member of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh Branch, Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland and as chairman of Group 7, Pennsylvania Bankers Association.

Locally, Mr. Rasmussen has been one of the county's most active civic and business leaders, serving on numerous boards and committees and always willing to help in worthwhile causes.

He is a past president of the Warren County Chamber of Commerce and the Warren Community Chest and currently is a director of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau and the Warren County Motor Club which he serves as treasurer. He presently serves as treasurer of the First Presbyterian Church.

His interest in the development of the community is also evidenced by his participation in numerous fund campaigns, not only for charity and building campaigns, but also for industrial development efforts.

When Mr. Rasmussen became president in 1949, the Warren National Bank had assets of about $25,000,000. It is now ranked 608 in size among the nearly 13,000 banks in the country with resources of over $88,000,000.

The expansion of the bank under his presidency is reflected by the following events:

since 1949. These include the purchase of the Tidoute State Bank in 1952, the purchase of the First National Bank of Warren in 1953, the opening of the Market Street Drive-In in 1956, the opening of the Kane Office in 1960, the merger with the Johnsonburg National Bank in 1963, and the opening of the new Warren East Side Office and a Youngsville Office, both in 1965.

Mr. Rasmussen will continue to reside in Warren and will remain a director and a member.

for a half-hour of prime television time in order to tell the voters "my story, uninterrupted by protesters and demonstrators," or "by second-hand interpretation."

Humphrey noted that President Johnson will hold the power of the presidency—as well as the authority for making decisions in Vietnam until January 20 and he added:

"And the voice at the negotiating table must be his. I shall not compete with that voice. I shall cooperate and help."

Humphrey said that when the President made his decisions on Vietnam, "I have supported them."

But Humphrey said that in 112 days there would be a new president and new advisers, and as he said in his acceptance speech, "The policies of tomorrow need not be limited by the policies of yesterday."

Humphrey said he would not undertake a unilateral withdrawal of American troops, which he said "would be an open invitation to more violence, more aggression, more instability."

Nor, added Humphrey, would he "escalate the level of violence in either North or South Vietnam. We must seek to de-escalate."

Humphrey also outlined what else he would do in addition to a willingness to stop the bombing: —Move toward "de-Americanization of the war," through a timetable negotiated with the South Vietnam government to reduce U.S. forces.

—Propose once more "an immediate ceasefire with United Nations or other international supervision and withdrawal of all foreign forces from South Vietnam."

"What I am proposing is that it should be basic to our policy in Vietnam that the South Vietnamese take over more and more of the defense of their own country," said Humphrey.

A three-vehicle, chain reaction accident at about 5 p.m. Monday resulted in $1,000 damage and no injuries. The mishap occurred on Route 6 about seven miles east of Youngsville.

Trooper Joseph Azz. to of the Warren State Police said the operators of the three vehicles were Frank Novak, 45, of 52 W. Greece's New Constitution Wins Overwhelming Approval

ATHENS (AP) — The regime of Papadopoulos rolled up a spectacular 92.2 per cent majority for its new constitution Monday, amazing Greeks and foreign diplomats alike.

Approval of the document, cutting King Constantine's power and establishing a strong executive, had been widely predicted. But even Papadopoulos's lieutenants had not forecast such a lopsided outcome, especially since the new charter suspends most of the voters' basic rights

Frugal Council Turns Down Bid To Attend Conference

JAMESTOWN — Faced with an anticipated $125,000 deficit in the Social Services Department for 1968, Jamestown City Council Monday night turned down a resolution to send six department staff members to a conference in nearby Olean.

Social Services Commissioner Leonard Crissey expressed disappointment over Council action, which, he said, involved a sum less than $200. Crissey said the Olean Conference would be attended by state officials who would be present to discuss forthcoming trends in social service programs.

The move to reject the resolution was made by veteran Councilman Warren T. Erickson.

All other resolutions on the Council agenda were approved, including one to accept the report of a state-appointed fact-finder in a labor dispute between the city and employees of the

Mother, Son Slightly Hurt In Auto Mishap

A young mother and her 15-month-old son sustained minor injuries in an auto accident about 1 p.m. Monday on McPherson st., 150 feet east of Conewago avenue.

Mrs. Sheryl Rich, 19, of 16 Linda ave., operator of one of the vehicles, and her infant son, Terry, were taken to Warren General Hospital in a police patrol car by Sgt. Edward E. Peterson, following the mishap. A hospital spokesman said neither were admitted or treated at the hospital, but were taken to a private doctor's office.

Sgt. Peterson said the mishap occurred when the Rich infant fell from the front seat of the car, distracting the driver. The auto then struck a parked car, owned by Edward L. Wisor, R. D. 1, Clarendon, the investigating officer said.

Law Specifies Recreational Space Provisions

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG — In sixth class counties such as Warren County, the county planning commission now may require that provision be made for recreation space in plans for land subdivision, under terms of legislation enacted by the 1967-68 Legislature.

The new law specifies that the county planning commission shall not require setting aside land for recreation space if the subdivision contains less than 50 lots.

However where 50 or more lots are involved the commission "if it determines recreation space is necessary" is mandated to require either the dedication or grant in easement of five percent of the total area of all lots, or 10,000 square feet, whichever is greater.

Interestingly perhaps, the version finally approved differs substantially from the original bill which underwent sharp amendment before final approval by the Legislature and the Governor.

Initially, for example, the bill specifies that one acre would be required to be set aside for recreation space for subdivisions with 50 to 150 dwelling units, two acres in cases where the number of dwelling units ranged between 151 and 350; three acres for between 351 and 600 units; five acres for subdivisions having between 601 and 900 dwelling units, with one additional acre required for each 300 units beyond 900.

until the government chooses to restore them.

The vote approached a unanimity comparable to one-ticket elections in Communist lands. Skeptical remarks were heard about the way the voting was run at some polling places. But in general diplomats and responsible Greeks raised no doubts about the fairness of the referendum.

The campaign had been one-sided. Government officials, the press and radio joined in a massive effort to persuade Greeks to vote for the constitution. If there was any campaigning at all in opposition it was clandestine.

Virtually any diplomat asked in Athens asserts off the record that a large number of Greeks oppose the present regime, perhaps even a majority of them. One envoy suggested opponents voted approval on the theory that it might be better to have an authoritarian regime with a constitution than without one.

Papadopoulos hailed the result as a vote of confidence in his regime and as a mandate to pursue its policies.

Papadopoulos and his associates who engineered the April 21, 1967 coup d'etat that brought them to power 17 months ago already are reported to be setting up key units in the country around which they could build their own political party.

Meanwhile, the regime can boast of winning the biggest majority of any vote ever held in Greece. Final returns from all of the 8,108 polling stations in the country approved the referendum by a total of 4,633,602 votes (92.2 per cent) to 390,470 votes against (7.3 per cent).

Fire Damage Set at $20,000

Damage has been estimated at $20,000 in a fire which broke out Sunday night in an unoccupied house on State st. in North Warren.

The blaze started at 8:55 p.m. with some 25 to 30 firemen at the scene until early Monday. State police Cpl. William F. Katter of the Warren substation is continuing an investigation into the fire and on Monday said the prompt arrival of North Warren Volunteer firemen prevented more serious damage.

The structure is owned by Joseph Casel of Jamestown, N.Y., owner of Big Joe's Market which is adjacent to the burned house. Casel is reported to be on a trip to New Jersey and Virginia.

Court Action In Fish Kill Forthcoming

HARRISBURG — The office of Robert J. Bielo, executive director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, stated Monday that action to recover damages in the Sept. 12 fish kill on Chi-Beaver Creek is forthcoming.

"I'm sure there will be prosecution," Gordon L. Tremble, assistant executive director of the fish commission, stated.

The kill described as "extensive" by the commission occurred when a pipeline bearing fuel oil broke near Cherry Tree, Huntingdon County, discharging its contents into Chi-Beaver Creek. The fuel oil flowed into the Juniata River killing fish and other aquatic life for a distance of at least 18 miles.

The pipeline was the property of Buckeye Pipeline Co. The fish killed were large quantities of small mouth bass, walleye, pickerel and other species native to the Juniata River.

After studying the damage the fish commission recommended the Justice Dept. take action against the possible parties at blame. Prosecution would be based on a new law enacted by the legislature in 1967.

The Justice Dept. said, further details on its plans to prosecute will be released later in the week.

State Unemployment Claims Decrease

HARRISBURG — Both initial and continued claims for unemployment compensation decreased during the week ended September 20 according to John K. Tabor, Secretary of Labor and Industry.

The 53,342 continued claims filed represent a decrease of 1,154 from the volume of one week ago and a decrease of 4,846 from the number filed in the same week one year ago. The apparel and primary metals industries accounted for the bulk of the current decrease in volume.

Initial claims (first and re-opened applications) filed totaled 12, 211 or 293 less than the number filed in the preceding week. The decrease was concentrated in apparel, electrical machinery and service.

During the week 44,022 UC checks amounting to $1,725,310 were issued to regular UC claimants.

Virtually any diplomat asked in Athens asserts off the record that a large number of Greeks oppose the present regime, perhaps even a majority of them. Schwab Named Warren TV Manager

FRED SCHWAB

TeleVision Communications Corporation of New York has announced transfer of Fred Schwab from the Pittsfield-Dalton (Mass.) TV Cable to management of Warren Television. Schwab assumed the Warren post on September 9, 1968.

In addition to being Warren manager, Schwab has been assigned new duties on the corporate engineering staff of TeleVision Communications Corporation.

A native of Warren, Schwab is the son of Mrs. Emil Schwab and the late Mr. Schwab. He is married to the former Joyce Ruhlman of this city. With their four children, the Schwabs have moved back to their former home at 1820 Pleasant Road.

Schwab worked in the Warren system about eight years ago. Since then, he managed, in succession, cable systems in Clearfield, Pa., Chambersburg, Pa., and Olean, N.Y., before becoming manager of the Pittsfield system in 1967.

In Pittsfield, Schwab increased the number of trucks in the cable fleet, the number of office employees and the number of subscribers. During his management, Pittsfield's all-new studios for its cablecasting station were constructed, and all wiring at the antenna site was revamped and updated.

In Warren, Schwab replaces Derek White, who has been assigned to the Pittsfield system.

Senators Opposing Fortas Turn Fire on Warren

WASHINGTON (AP) — Apparently confident of being able to block a vote on the nomination of Abe Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren, senators turned their fire Monday on Warren.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D.Va., for one, said that "in the way he conditioned his retirement" Warren has "acted in a manner unbefitting the great office of chief justice."

Sen. Gordon Allott, R.Colo., criticized what he called the "calculated phrasemongery" in which Warren submitted his retirement to President Johnson's pleasure, and in which Johnson accepted it upon the confirmation of a successor.

Administration backers held little hope that they will be able to muster anywhere near the votes they will need Tuesday in a move to choke off a filibuster against Johnson's nomination of

Drug Case Transferred To County Court

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — The case of Heath Bourdon, of 16 Water st., Warren, charged with criminally selling a dangerous drug, was ordered transferred to Chautauque County Court when he appeared before Judge Lester W. Berghud Saturday.

Bourdon was arrested in Warren Friday after disposition of a similar matter in Warren County Court. Judge Alexander C. Flick Jr., had suspended a six months jail sentence and ordered Bourdon paroled so he could be turned over to Jamestown detectives.

Police said Bourdon is accused of selling amphetamine tablets to Detective Jerome A. Thompson in a parking lot at West Second and Jefferson streets at 9 p.m. last March 27.

Judge Berghud noted that a Chautauque grand jury had indicted Bourdon on the charge and the matter was pending in county court. He ordered the Warren man confined to Chautauque County jail pending bail.

Warren authorities said Bourdon was formerly a medical doctor in New England but has lost his license to practice. Prior to his arrest in Warren, Bourdon had been a patient at Warren State Hospital.

miles from the battleship's position four miles offshore.

"After the first five rounds I reported: 'Scratch the target, it doesn't exist any more.' They were right on the money," said Marine Lt. Patrick Orrocco of Youngstown, Ohio, the observer on the spotter plane.

The pilot, Marine Maj. John Clark of Omaha, Neb., told 33 newsmen aboard the battleship his jet shook when the big shells exploded.

After the mission, the New Jersey gun boss, Cmdr. Peter Roane of Winona, N.J., messaged the plane: "Thanks for the mission. We put some holes in it."

It was the New Jersey's first war assignment since she shelled Wonsan Harbor 15 years ago, the day before the Korean armistice.

Rear Adm. Sam Moore of Rugby, Tex., commander of surface vessels in the 7th Fleet, expressed satisfaction with performance on Marine targets in the demilitarized zone and said he saw no reason why the ship should not be used to strike deeper into North Vietnam.

"We're going to reach out and hit them without endangering aircraft," said Moore. "The targets are well protected and well hidden."

He said the 16-inch guns can penetrate 30 feet of reinforced concrete and will be used primarily against targets that might be invulnerable to allied bombers.

Associate Justice Fortas to succeed Warren.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana expressed hope for a full attendance when a roll call is due to be taken at 1 p.m. on a petition to invoke the Senate's debate limiting cloture rule.

Mansfield has indicated that the question of dropping the fight will turn on the number of votes he is able to round up in favor of cloture. A two-thirds majority of the senators voting is required to invoke the rule. An Associated Press survey indicated last week that opponents of cloture have more than enough votes to defeat it.

One big unknown quantity on the eve of the test was how many absentees there will be. Already on the sure-to-be-absent list are Sens. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., an opponent of any move to limit debate; George A. Smathers, D-Fla., a Fortas supporter; and Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, whose views are not known.

Troopers To Attend Telephonic Institute

State police trooper Harry W. Jabo and J. D. Barnes of the Warren substation will participate in a Telephonic Institute on Arrest, Search and Seizure October 2 through November 20.

Lectures will be conducted by employing the tele-lecture system, delivered from Indiana University, Dept. of Criminology, School of Continuing and Non-resident Education and other points. These talks will be simultaneously communicated to 15 Pennsylvania State Police troop headquarters.

The institute will concentrate on legal rules and principles having the greatest significance for arrest, search and seizure functions of the police. Lectures will be given by recognized legal experts, followed by discussions at troop headquarters.

New Sewage Rates In Effect in Youngsville

As Youngsville's new sewer rates go into effect today, the first of two field storage "houses" have been moved on to the borough sewage plant site, in readiness for the start of work on a new secondary treatment system and improvement of the existing facility.

The "houses" are large truck trailers belonging to the general contractors, the Frank M. Sheasley Corporation of Youngstown, Ohio.

All financial and legal arrangements have now been completed for the project, which has been under discussion since 1963. The funds raised through the issue of a $385,000 sewer revenue bond, and a loan of $78,000 from the Warren National Bank have been placed on interest, and will earn enough between now and the time that the first bills from the contractors become due (about six months from now) to more than pay the fees of the bond brokers and related costs of the transaction.

The bond represents a 40-year indebtedness, due to be paid off in 2008. It requires a boost in the sewer rental rate from 70 per cent to 160 per cent of the water use rate. The water rate remains unchanged. The following table indicates what this will mean to residents' quarterly bills.

Water Usage per Quarter	New Sewage Rate (up from 70 per cent to 160 per cent of water rate)	Water Rate	Quarterly Rate
First 6,000 gallons	$0.66	$1.056
Next 14,000 gals.	0.60	0.960
" 20,000 gals.	0.48	0.768
" 30,000 gals.	0.36	0.576
" 50,000 gals.	0.30	0.480
" 80,000 gals.	0.24	0.384
All over 200,000 gals.	0.18	0.288

Thus, a resident using 10,000 gallons of water in a quarter has been paying a water bill of $6.39, plus $4.47 for sewer rental, for a total of $10.86. The same user will now be billed $6.39 for water, as before, plus $10.22 for sewer rental, for a total of $16.61.

Youngsville has enjoyed one of the lowest rates in the State, hitherto, and the new rate still compares favorably with many Pennsylvania communities having similar conditions. Here are some examples, based on use of 10,000 gallons quarterly.

Borough or Twp.	Water Rate	Sewer Rental	Total
Liberty	$ 7.00	200	$21.00
Pike	10.25	154	26.03
Snowden	8.38	189	24.82
Baden	5.50	190	15.90
Monongahela	6.83	199	20.18

Warren's water rate for 10,000 gallons is $33.95; and the sewer rental of 105 per cent comes to $35.65, for a total of $69.60.

Youngsville is seventh in line for grants from Federal and state funds in aid of sewage treatment facility construction. However, failure of Congress to appropriate sufficient funds has delayed receipt of the grants.

It was for this reason that the borough had to negotiate the $78,000 loan — to make up the difference between the amount of the bond issue and the anticipated grants.

It is an irony that Congress set up its grants system to encourage communities to help to eliminate water pollution; yet if Youngsville had gone ahead and financed its project privately five years ago when planning began, as much would have been saved as the grants, if received, will amount to, because of the interim rise in costs.

The new facilities will reduce pollution in the Brokenstraw Creek. Inadequacy of the present plant has meant that some raw sewage has had to be released into the creek during the past several summers—to the discomfort of some Davis Street residents, who have, however, been patiently understanding of the problem.

The newly organized Youngsville Municipal Authority, which will be responsible for the finances of the operation, will shortly commence monthly meetings. They may approve no bills for payment until a requisition is first received from the supervising engineers, Chester Engineers of Pittsburgh, Pa. This is to ensure maximum security of the funds, and performance of the construction work.

The first Youngsville sewer line was laid in 1906 from the then new school to the Brokenstraw Creek, with a resident, J. R. White, volunteering to pay one-third of the cost. (A plaque still exists at the school, commemorating Mr. White).

The present system was begun in 1938 and finished in 1942 at a cost of $30,000.

Million Students Back to Class

NEW YORK (AP) — The end of a three-week teachers' strike sent most of New York City's 1.1 million public school pupils back to classes Monday, but the battle over "decentralization" appeared far from settled.

Officials of the Ocean Hill-Brownsville district—a group of eight mostly Negro and Puerto Rican schools in Brooklyn—denounced the strike-ending pact. It was not clear how or if the Ocean Hill-Brownsville officials would oppose the pact between the city Board of Education and the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers.

The pact, worked out with Mayor John V. Lindsay's help, called for reinstatement of 110 white teachers, posting of observers to insure that they can teach without harassment, and addition of six days to the school term—at full pay for teachers—to make up lost time.

TB OFFICIALS MEET

Participating in recent deliberations of the executive committee of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Health Society, pertinent to vital program policies, were left to right, Howard F. Dobson, first vice president, Warren, who presided; Catherine Andersen, program associate, Warren; and James V. Mazzu, Warren Branch representative, Warren. Adoption of a new shared-cost chest x-ray survey policy was acted upon and a recommendation that the nine-county TB Society assume a leadership role in Comprehensive Health Planning for Region 6 was prepared for approval by the board of directors, Oct. 17. The meeting was held in the Hospitality Room, Northwestern Savings and Loan Association.

Strike Averted When 42,000 NYC Workers Extend Contracts

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay, a city-wide teachers' strike behind him, won a reprieve Monday in a new municipal crisis—a contract wage deadlock with 42,000 uniformed policemen, firemen and sanitation workers.

The republican mayor called in Arthur J. Goldberg, who prevailed upon the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, the Uniformed Firemen's Association and the Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association to extend their contracts with the city for the time being. They had been due to expire within nine hours of each other, beginning at midnight.

Goldberg, a Democrat, former U.S. secretary of labor, Supreme Court justice and U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, agreed reluctantly to serve Lindsay as chairman of a special two-man mediation panel. The other member is Vincent D. McDonnell, state mediation board chairman.

A veteran of many a labor-management impasse, Goldberg added that he took the job only on assurance that present contracts would be extended, to give his panel time to tackle the key issues of wages.

The PBA's contract covering 22,000 policemen had a midnight expiration date, and the union had threatened a "knockout punch" against the city, without spelling out details.

The 10,500-member UFA had announced it would continue to fight fires with the expiration of its contract at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday, but would abandon clerical and all other nonemergency duties.

The 10,000 garbage men were on record as prepared for a strike at midnight, a duplication of last February's nine-day walkout. That strike led to 15 days in jail for USA president, John J. DeLury, and an $80,000 fine against the union, for violation of a state law banning strikes by public employees.

Elsewhere, in private industry, a strike of ports from Maine to Texas was scheduled for midnight, involving 75,000 members of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association.

According to department officials the plan was designed to protect the area of the Marvin R. Strickland property from flooding by overflowing of the banks of Akeley Run in periods of heavy rainfall.

This would be accomplished by clearing debris from the bed of the stream and realigning the waterway channel extending over a length of about 600 feet about one mile upstream from the confluence of Akeley Run with Conewago Creek. Two gravel bars in this section would be removed, the bottom of the channel widened to 40 feet and a low-flow channel would be built to provide for aquatic life in light rain fall periods.

Should the township officials approve the flood control plan they would become sponsors of the project. In this capacity they would provide rights of way for carrying out the plan and agree to maintain the stream improvement after completion.

Cost of engineering and construction would be paid from state funds, the department said.

22nd Talk Held On Fate of Pueblo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans and North Korean negotiators had their 22nd talk on the fate of the captured U.S. reconnaissance ship Pueblo and its crew, Monday, the State Department announced.

The meeting lasted one hour and 20 minutes at 11 a.m. Korean time, press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference.

"There was no breakthrough and we expect that the meetings will continue," the spokesman said.

State Mails Checks For Firemen's Relief

HARRISBURG (AP) — Checks totaling $4,964,917.13 were mailed Monday to volunteer firemen's relief associations and paid firemen's pension plans in 2,369 municipalities, Auditor General Grace M. Sloan reported.

However, Mrs. Sloan said, another $100,711.50 was withheld from 176 municipalities for failure to acknowledge receipt of last year's allocation.

The benefits are paid from the 2 per cent tax on net direct premiums of out-of-state fire insurance companies collected last year and surplus money in the Fire Insurance Fund as of June 30, 1968, she explained.

Checks ranged from $1,204.928.70 to Philadelphia, to 31 cents to sparsely populated Windham Township in Wyoming County.

Mighty Colossus of the Air, 747 Jumbo Jet, Rolled Out

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — The Boeing Co. rolled out its mighty colossus of the air Monday—the 747 jumbo jet which will carry more people faster than any other plane in the world to meet the growing airline industry's needs.

The sweeping 747 with a computerized cockpit can nearly triple the seating capacity of the largest commercial jetliners now in service. And it is the second largest plane ever built, next to Lockheed's C-5A military transport.

3 Convicted Of 1st Degree Murder

MERCER, Pa. (AP) — Three men were judged guilty of first-degree murder Monday in the shooting death of a college student. All had previously pleaded guilty to a general charge of murder.

A three-judge panel, which ruled on the degree of guilt, then resumed deliberations to decide whether to give the men life imprisonment or death.

The defendants were Kenneth E. Perrine, 23; Arthur McConnell, 49; and Donald Hosack, 25, all of Mercer.

The jurors planned hearing additional testimony before reaching a decision on a fourth defendant, Gary Batley, 19, of Mercer, who also pleaded guilty.

The three judges deliberated less than an hour before announcing their decision.

All four men had been charged in the death in March of Kenneth M. Frick, 21, of Ford City, an honor student at Virginia Military Institute.

Frick, another young man and their dates — two coeds from Slippery Rock State College — were abducted from a restaurant parking lot near Slippery Rock.

Police said Frick was shot to death, his body buried in a hastily-dug grave alongside a road, and the other young man and the girls taken to an abandoned farm house where the girls were raped.

Judges Albert E. Acker and John Q. Stranahan of Mercer County and F. Joseph Thomas of Crawford County called the three defendants to the bar one at a time to announce their degree murder findings.

First Hosack, then Perrine, and then McConnell heard the verdict. They showed no outward emotion.

In hearings that lasted most of a week, the defense contended there had been no conspiracy.

16 Penn-Central Cars Derailed At Centerville

TITUSVILLE — Sixteen cars of a Penn Central train derailed at Centerville Sunday, spilling coal throughout the area of the wreck.

The derailment occurred about noon and was blamed by railroad officials on a "hot journal" which caused an axle on one of the cars to burn and drop off. The mishap took place about 500 feet north of the old Centerville railroad station.

The train was headed north and was hauling coal. A number of cars were thrown over a bank and much of the coal scattered.

Damage to the cars was described as heavy. Reports said only two cars could be re-railed Sunday. Others were sideways on the tracks or completely off. Witnesses stated the track was torn up the length of the 16 cars.

A railroad official said the scene could not be cleared before 6 p.m. Monday.

23 Teenagers Picked up by Police Following Raid

BRADFORD — Nineteen boys and four girls, all teenagers, were released in custody of their parents after being picked up by police following a raid of a beer party Saturday night in an area camp.

The raid was staged by police from Bradford, Foster township and the state substation in Kane on a tip received by the state police.

The teenagers were taken to the Bradford police station where their parents were called to pick them up. Police said all will be charged with a summary offense for possession of alcoholic beverages.

PUC Authorizes Tionesta Rate Hike

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission authorized approximately $7,000 in annual rate increases Monday for 366 water customers in Forest and Washington counties. The increases are effective Tuesday.

Tionesta Water Supply Co. in Forest County will raise charges of 27¢ customers by $4,000 annually while Somerset and McCormick water companies in Berks County will hike water bills of 80 Washington County customers by $3,000.

The 747 was wheeled out of its mammoth hangar for public debut before more than 2,000 cheering spectators at the Boeing plant here 25 miles north of Seattle.

And Boeing President T. A. Wilson said development of the 747 comes at a time the airline industry needs it most. He said the plane will help solve the crisis of traffic jams at major airports throughout the world.

The superjet, costing $20 million apiece, can span continents and oceans nonstop at 625 m.p.h. with up to 490 passengers. In sheer size, it dwarfs all other commercial airliners.

A tractor towed the 747 into view where its huge nose was splashed with 26 bottles of champagne by an equal number of stewards representing worldwide airlines which have already placed orders for the superjet.

The plane won't make its maiden flight until about mid-December, followed by 10 months of in-flight shakedown prior to government certification. The 747 is expected to be delivered to the first buyers late in 1969.

The 747 is 231 feet long and is

Firemen Attend State Fire School

Two borough firemen, Stephen (Bud) Pees and Tom Hines, were among firemen from three states attending Pennsylvania State Fire School Sept. 22-25 at Lewistown, Pa.

Both firemen were enrolled in classes covering the mechanical and hydraulic operations of the aerial ladder truck.

Pennsylvania State Fire Training School is sanctioned by the state and covers all phases of fire fighting. According to borough Fire Chief, E.E. Fitzgerald, all borough firemen will eventually attend classes in the various phases of fire fighting at the school.

Parental Shock Treatment

While most educators, judges, social workers, youth leaders and police officers go all out in explaining the various things that can be done to prevent juvenile delinquency, the Houston, Texas, police department took the negative approach as a means of shocking parents into realizing what they contribute most of the child's attitudes.

In presenting their "How to Raise a Juvenile Delinquent" the police of Houston list ten pertinent points.

1. Begin at infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up bad words laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute.
3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and then let him decide for himself.

4. Pick up everything he leaves lying around. Do everything for him so he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.

5. Quarrel frequently in his presence. In this way he will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later.

6. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink and comfort. . . Denial may lead to harmful frustrations.

7. Give the child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as tough as you had them?

9. When he gets into trouble, apologize for yourself by saying: I never could do anything with him.

10. Prepare for a life of grief. You are bound to have it. And how!

ART BUCHWALD

God Bless You, Mrs. Robinson

WASHINGTON — In the movie "The Graduate," the hero, Dustin Hoffman, is seduced by a Mrs. Robinson. Thanks to a hit song written and sung by Simon and Garfunkel, "Mrs. Robinson" has now become part of American folklore. I hadn't realized the impact of the film or the song until I started talking the other day with a friend of mine who happened to have the same name.

This Mrs. Buchwald Robinson, a middle-aged lady, said that because of "The Graduate" she's had a new lease on life. "I didn't realize what was going on at first," she said. "But then one day as I paid my bill at the grocer's with a check, the young man behind the counter winked at me and started singing, 'Jesus loves you more than you will know -- wo, wo, wo.'"

"A few days later, as I was getting gas for my car, I handed over my credit card and when the young man looked at it, he whistled and said, 'Where are you going tonight, Mrs. Robinson?'"

"At first I was going to complain to the manager, but then I thought to myself, 'If I got two passes in one week, there must be something more to this than I'm aware of.'"

"I discovered what was up when my teen-age son said, 'All the guys want to meet you, Mom.'"

"What on earth for?"; "He just laughed and said, 'Heaven holds a place for those who pray -- hey, hey, hey. Hey, hey, hey.'"

"I got mad and said, 'Stop this drive. What's going on with you kids these days?'"

"He brought down the Simon and Garfunkel record and said,

'coo coo ca-choo, Mrs. Robinson.'"

Mrs. Robinson continued: "When I heard the record I was flabbergasted, and when I went to see the movie 'The Graduate,' I was dumbfounded. I wondered how many Mrs. Robinsons were being defamed because of one Mrs. Robinson who had gone astray."

"What could you do about it without changing your name?" I said.

"I gave it some thought and I decided the worst thing to do was fight it. So now when the grocery boy winks at me, I wink back; and when the gas station attendant starts getting fresh, I just start singing, 'Where have you gone Joe Di Maggio, a nation turns its lonely eyes on you, ooo, ooo, ooo.'"

"What about your son's friends?"

"They're around the house all the time. Before the film came out they never talked to me. Now they invite me to join all their conversations, and they are interested in everything I have to say."

"What does Mr. Robinson have to say about all this?"

"That's the amazing thing. With all his hubbub going on with the kids, he's suddenly taken a new interest in me, and for the first time in 10 years he's jealous. Every time someone sings, 'Put it in your pantry with your cupcakes. It's a little secret -- the Robinsons' affair,' he seethes with rage. It's nice still to be wanted when your kids are in high school."

"I guess in the long run then, this has been a good year for the Mrs. Robinsons of this world."

"Let's say it was a bonus that none of us expected. God bless you please, Simon and Garfunkel."

"As I shook hands with her an amazing thing happened. For the first time I noticed that Mrs. Robinson looked very attractive, almost, I might say, beautiful."

"Well, goodbye," she said in a lovely, lulling voice.

Somehow the magic had worked. As I walked away, I started singing, "What's that you say, Mrs. Robinson? Joithin' Joe has left and gone away. Hey, hey, hey. Hey, hey, hey."

Wallace's Uncanny Progress

Everywhere, the talk is of George Wallace and his uncanny progress. The uptown moralizers do not depart from the single theme that Wallace is evil, that what he represents is evil, and that therefore he is to be handled about as we would handle the grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan whom, we discovered, Aunt Jane was secretly voting for. With some of this analysis I happen to agree, respecting Wallace about as much as I would Huey Long. But the fact of the matter is that Wallace is on to something, and if that something isn't unconstitutional, it is the right of the people to have it if that is what they want.

Buckley

Richard Nixon, in a speech in North Carolina, touched on it when he said that in his opinion the federal government had gone too far in pressing the southern states to integrate their schools by denying to disobedient schools federal funds to which otherwise they would have been entitled. This remark by Mr. Nixon brought down the wrath of many of the opinion makers who instantly charged him with attempting to appease Wallace. The charge itself is interesting, because it is necessary to go beyond merely the statement of it to decide whether the act of appeasement is venal. If one attempts to appease the Wallaceites by suggesting that the Negroes are and should be maintained as secondhand citizens, then that appeasement is manifestly contemptible. But if one appeases Wallaceites who desire local control of their schools, that is not necessarily venal, any more than the de facto segregation of the majority of New York City schools is necessarily venal.

What needs attention is the question of the appropriate sanction. Senator Charles Goodell, the young New Yorker who occupies the late Senator Kennedy's seat, has been most vociferous in criticizing Mr. Nixon's tergiversation on the matter of withholding federal funds. But one wonders at the appropriateness of the sanction. If a southern community drags its feet on integration, what is the appropriate penalty? The question is a thoughtful one, and the answer to it, pace Senator Goodell, is not obvious.

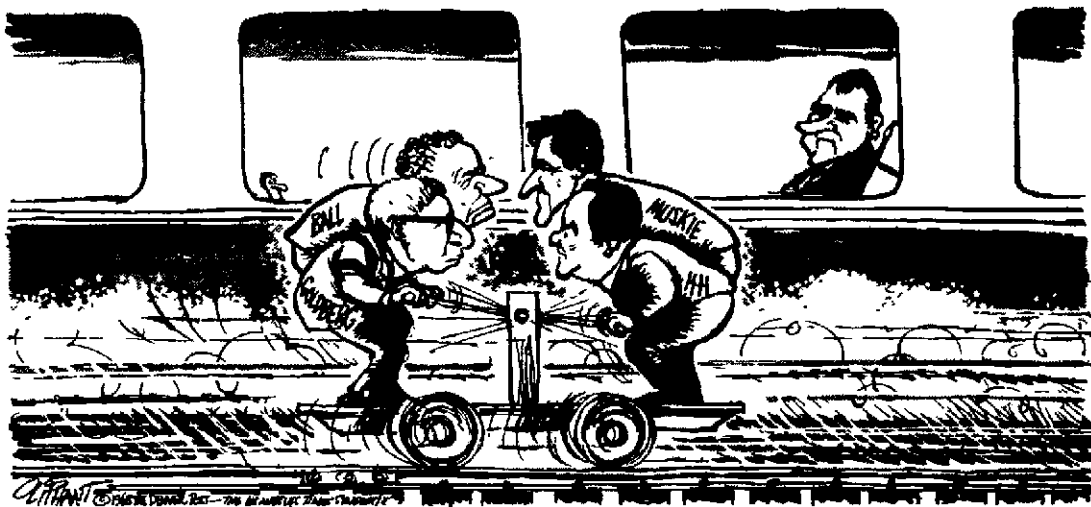

To begin with, the Supreme Court's famous decision of 1954 did not assert that de facto segregation was unconstitutional, but that compulsory segregation was. It has never been made clear that de facto segregation is unconstitutional, and there isn't a community in America, however liberal, where bussing of students for the purpose of effecting integration has been successful.

What, then, to do about obviously recalcitrant southern towns where Negroes attend one set of schools, and whites another? A recent Civil Rights Act decreed that in such situations the federal government should deny such subsidies as the community schools would otherwise be entitled to. Nixon's point was that that is an inapposite penalty, and it seems to me that he, and not his critics, has the better case.

The money appropriated is for the benefit of the students, not for the benefit of their parents. Yet it is the parents, not the students, who make the decisions as to whether the schools will be segregated. So that, under present policy, you are to begin with depriving the students of benefits to which they are as a matter of distributive justice entitled. If those benefits are justified in the first instance, it is because they are designed to improve the quality of their education. We like to believe that bigotry feeds on ignorance, and that if we improve the quality of the education, we increase, strategically, the chances of racial reconciliation.

Then, too, how do we justify philosophically the denial of A in order to correct the conduct of A? If a welfare recipient eats only Post Toasties and therefore unbalances her diet, should the welfare worker, on the grounds that she is abusing herself, cut off money for food payments? If you read the wrong books, should your electricity be cut off so that you can't read? Ridiculous, isn't it? But so is it ridiculous to cut down educational benefits to those whom above all you desire to educate.

Mr. Nixon can be said here to be appropriating a position of Mr. Wallace. But the difference is plain. Mr. Wallace is, by the record, devoted to the doctrine of segregation. Mr. Nixon is devoted to integration.

Wilson's Fund-Raising Devices

WASHINGTON — If you look over the campaign funds raised by Republicans for the re-election of Congressmen, you can understand why fund-raising chairman Bob Wilson of San Diego wanted to be in Southern California where conservative money is and yet simultaneously pretended to be answering roll calls in the House of Representatives. Wilson has done an amazing job of money-raising.

Nevertheless, Congressional leaders of neither party could recall a recent case where a Congressman had arranged to have someone else deliberately answer the roll call for him when he was absent. In the pandemonium which usually exists on the House floor, this would be not too difficult to do. However, it has not been done as far as leaders could recall in the past.

The House now has an ethics committee, under the chairmanship of Rep. Mel Price, D-Ill., who has a reputation for honesty and integrity. However, under House rules the committee cannot act unless another member makes an official complaint. And it has been difficult for such a complaint to be registered on the House floor. When Rep. Joe Resnick, D-N.Y., called attention to the transgressions of Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., he was promptly rapped out of order by Speaker John McCormack.

It is possible for a member to file a written complaint with the ethics committee, but most Congressmen are reluctant to do this. It violates the rules of "The Club."

Meanwhile, thanks to Rep. Wilson's ability both to raise money and falsify the roll call records of the House, a lot of his Democratic colleagues are having to raise additional money to combat Wilson's fund-raising.

Rep. James Corman, Democrat of Los Angeles County, for instance, is being confronted with a $100,000 campaign fund used by former Rep. Joe Holt, Republican, running against him. Holt is one of the ultra-right wingers of Southern California, and a son of one of the contributors to the Nixon $18,000 personal expense fund in 1952.

Holt has spent an estimated $20,000 for billboards, and operates a gigantic headquarters in North Hollywood costing $1,000 a month for rent in contrast to Rep. Corman's storefront headquarters costing $100 a month.

Another GOP candidate with a campaign chest flowing over thanks to Bob Wilson is Daniel E. Weber of New York, who is trying to unseat Democrat Rep. Richard McCarthy of the Buffalo area.

Weber is a Cheektowaga policeman who is also adept as a white backlash spellbinder. Weber seems to have an almost unlimited

Action at Astoria

(c) N.Y. Times News Service ASTORIA, Ore. — Just south of here, along the flat white beach at Newport with its silvery surf, the Cold War is as tangible as the Soviet fishing vessels at work just over the 12-mile limit — or maybe even within it.

But the ghostly visibility of the adversary on the horizon has not caused, in the wildly beautiful coastal country, much concern for the great international issues.

Out here politics is still direct, personal and elementary. As one Oregonian put it bluntly the other night to Robert Packwood, a senatorial candidate:

"Our votes are going to put you there as our voice in the United States Senate and we want our voice and not some kind of a national voice."

The 35-year-old Packwood is waging a night-and-day, uphill battle as the Republican nominee for the seat of the redoubtable Wayne Morse, 68, one of the original senate doves, the possessor of a national reputation for labor mediation and political volatility, and an Oregon senator, in one party or another, for 24 years.

State Representative Packwood was so unknown when he began his campaign that now he habitually introduces himself to voters as "running against Wayne Morse," thus borrowing the senator's well-known identity as well as triggering off the considerable hostility Morse has built up for himself in a quarter-century of pouring it on.

A poll in the Portland Oregonian recently rated the two candidates just about neck-and-neck, and the expected Nixon landslide here may help Packwood pull off one of the upsets of the year.

However it goes, the Packwood-Morse race is by no means a high-level referendum on Vietnam. It is a grinding, more or less typical American political match between a new face and an old one, in which the gut issues are local, immediate and brutal. Packwood on a recent day of campaigning in the coastal country, did make a speech on Vietnam to a luncheon meeting at Tillamook, taking a somewhat less dovish stand than Morse but advocating a flat withdrawal of American forces unless Saigon puts an end to corruption and gets moving on land reform.

But after Packwood's speech and a brief concert by the sweet children's voices of the Tillamook Junior Choralists, the questioners recognized by Mayor Howard Edwards showed little interest in Vietnam. What was Packwood going to do to protect Americans against Soviet and Japanese fishing violations of the 12-mile limit? What about the new limitation on selling logs to Japan? Did Packwood have any idea how to save the fishing industry from extinction due to imports from cheap labor countries?

Ted Jacobs Jr., the president of the Oregon Fur Breeders Association, then lamented that about 25 per cent of Oregon's mink ranchers already had been put out of business by imports from Scandinavia and Russia. Against this barrage, Packwood tried to maintain a reasonable free-trade position and the generally friendly audience did not press him. But at a dinner meeting in Astoria, the historic trading center on the bluffs above the vast estuary where the Columbia River empties into the Pacific, the going was tougher.

Fishing industry men and fur breeders derided his position that Oregon was "part of a greater whole" and that he would have to look at their demands "in the same light" as he would those of steel or textile manufacturers.

"You'd better look at it in the light of something we produce in this state," a questioner replied; "in the light of an Oregon senator and not a United States senator."

"And jeopardize the interest of the country?" Packwood asked.

"Oh, we wouldn't want you to do anything like that," the man said. "We just want you to look after our interests first."

The surface plausibility of the protection requests (the fishermen want imports rolled back to the level of 1964; the mink ranchers want them frozen at the present level) make Packwood's opposition harder to express; "Just how is saving the mink farmer going to hurt the United States?" one fur breeder inquired. And even when Packwood warned that barring American markets to the Japanese might cause them to stop buying Eastern Oregon's white wheat, his western Oregon listeners were unmoved.

As he fought back doggedly, Packwood could look out at the towering new highway bridge that now leaps across the mouth of the Columbia to Washington. The physical evidence of change and maybe even of progress, its great reflection lay in the quiet water of the historic Astoria Harbor — which, like men in pursuit of their interests, seemed unchanging in the evening light.

Unequaled Job Help For Vets

For the first time in our history of wars, we have no real whatsoever that joblessness will skyrocket when our veterans come home. The unemployment rate will go up a bit after the Vietnam war ends, of course, but the rise will be insignificant compared with the surges after the Korean war and World War II. And the reason will be the unprecedented amount of help our Vietnam veterans will get in finding a job or a job-training position, or in getting Federal support if they want to return to school.

Porter

Between now and the end of 1968, more than 200,000 U.S. military servicemen will return to civilian life. Consider this range of assistance they can expect:

+ Private corporations and government agencies are setting up schools and training programs at or near major discharge centers. Some 150,000 servicemen are expected to be trained under this program during the current fiscal year in a wide variety of skills, and the trainees will have jobs waiting for them when they get out of the service.

+ Under a new Federal "transitional appointments" program begun last March, but only now getting into full swing, veterans will be given top priority for jobs with the U.S. Government if they also are willing to go to school at least one-fourth time. To be eligible, veterans must have less than one year of education beyond high school.

Most of the jobs are with these five agencies: the Post Office, Army, Navy, Air Force and Veterans Administration. The pay range is $3,900 to $5,700 for veterans who work full-time and attend school during the evenings. Up to 10,000 veterans may be hired under this program within the next 12 months although, says Sam Wolk, chief of the Civil Service Commission's Career Service Division, "the sky is the limit."

Important note: In addition to being paid for work under this program, veterans also are eligible for educational benefits under the Veterans' Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966.

+ Disabled veterans, under new liberalizations in the veterans' benefits law, can get financial assistance for vocational as well as full-time vocational rehabilitation training on the job, at a college, vocational school, or a special rehabilitation facility. For a single veteran, $110 a month is available for full-time training, $55 a month for half-time.

+ The U.S. Employment Service has instructed its 2,000 offices throughout the nation to telephone or visit every veteran being discharged and offer special services, ranging from job counseling to guidance on training programs and job placement. In addition, 21 U.S. Veterans Assistance Centers have been set up in top U.S. cities to help not only with job hunting but also in arranging VA guaranteed home loans and in steering veterans to sources of medical care, educational and training benefits.

Of course, veterans who had pre-service jobs and wish to return to them are protected: under the Selective Service Act their former employers are required to rehire them without loss of seniority or of fringe benefits and without a pay cut. Under this law, military service must be considered as a leave of absence.

And over and beyond all this is the biggest single boon of all: the educational benefits. Since the Veterans' Readjustment Benefits Act went into effect June 1, 1966, 838,000 Vietnam veterans have signed up — about two-thirds of them for college education. This fall, 523,000 veterans are enrolled, under this law, in colleges, on-the-job training programs, airplane pilot training, co-operative farm training — and, through an important new amendment, high schools.

In at least this one area, we are offering our veterans job-education benefits they have earned — and by so doing, we are offering benefits to our entire economy.

YWCA Dessert Club Eleven Sweet Adelines Attend Entertains For Special Occasion

The Dessert Club of the YWCA met in the Jefferson Parlors of the "Y" on Friday afternoon. After a short business meeting, Mrs. Charles Cable, program chairman, gave a history of the club which was started on Feb. 23, 1946.

The first president was Mrs. N. Plue Wendelboe who was among those present at the meeting. Thru the years, the speaker noted, the following ladies served as president: Mrs. Karl Timm, Mrs. G. Weston Ensworth, Mrs. J. R. Reddick, Mrs. James Nor-dine, Mrs. Lucille Caldin Kline-stiver, Mrs. Fred Olson, Mrs. Howard Putnam, Mrs. Ralph Sandberg, Mrs. Herbert Bartz, Mrs. Charles Cable and Mrs. Everett Borg. Mrs. Ralph Van-Ord is the present president. Most of these ladies were present and were given corsages.

Three charter members were present, Mrs. James Frantz, Mrs. Louis Lind and Mrs. N. Anthony Scallise. They too received corsages.

A musical program was given by members of the Philomel Club, with Mrs. Carl Lundahl as chairman. Mrs. Lundahl gave the history of the Philomel Club, speaking of their many activities, their outstanding programs, and of the sociability and fellowship which members enjoy. She introduced Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, Mrs. Fred Olson, Mrs. Harry Drivas and Mrs. James Potter who played several musical selections. To conclude the afternoon a Tea was served.

Originally the club was called the "Two To Four Club." In 1957 the name was changed to the "Dessert Luncheon Group" and in 1960 the Dessert Club came into being. Whatever the name, the club has always been a social and service group of the YWCA. Whatever money has been earned by the projects undertaken, has been used for YWCA projects whether it be new furnishings, redecorating or World Service. The YWCA ter formed a month ago, consists of Darlene Kundraek, tanor; Rhea Bohrn, lead; Ruth Eberhart, baritone; Carole Lazarus, Bass. Winners of the contest were the "Hamburg Patties" of the Hamburg, N.Y. chapter.

During the tallying of the judges scores, entertainment was provided by several regional quartet winners, including the "Barbersals" of Warren, who will be representing the region at the International Convention in Oklahoma City next month.

Other members who attended the weekend activities were the chapter president, Joyce Fishman, Florence Stevenson and Joan Harrison.

LWV Begins Its 1968-69 Season This Evening

The opening fall units for League of Women Voters gets under way tonight at 8 o'clock at the YWCA. The same topic, housing, is repeated Thursday at 9:30 a.m. for those who prefer a morning session. Mrs. David Smith will lead tonight's discussion and Mrs. Fred Emhardt on Thursday.

Warren women will be joining others in some 1200 Leagues across the nation in arriving at an area of agreement on housing. At the May convention the delegates voted to add housing to the present Human Resources study. In the past the scope of the study was limited to equality of opportunity in education and employment. Now it is:

"Support of equality of opportunity for education, employment, and housing. Evaluation of means to achieve equality of opportunity for housing and of further measures to combat poverty and discrimination."

The 150,000 League members in the United States are mostly housewives and mothers. When they make up their minds on public issues, lawmakers listen. The consensus to be sought this week in Warren affords members a chance to get their own views into real action.

The same questions will be discussed by all Leagues, and the group's newsletter "The Warren Voter" carried them on Page 2 last week. Members are asked to bring their copy with them if handy. As one preparation for the discussions Mrs. William Kennedy, chairman for Human Resources, recently interviewed Warren's housing codes inspector.

Prospective and new members are invited to come 15 minutes early for either unit and listen to the membership chairman, Mrs. Wayne Mann, preside at an orientation program. Those who need transportation or information may call Mrs. Mann at 757-8187.

Mrs. T. K. Stratton, president, announced that Warren League members are invited by the State College LWV to attend its candidates' meeting on Oct. 24, and early reservations would provide overnight stays with their members. State College shares the same congressional district, the 23rd, as Warren. Among the candidates to appear will be those for the office of representative in Congress from the district: Albert Johnson (R) the incumbent, and the Rev. Alan Cleaton (D), a Methodist minister who recently campaigned in Warren.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Usually I agree with your advice but this time your old-fashioned rigidity has turned me against you. I refer to the teen-age girl whose father blew up because she and her boyfriend were studying in the bedroom. You agreed with the parent.

Why all the fuss over a bedroom? Sex occurs on beaches, in haystacks, in cars, on back porches, in telephone booths and just about any place you can name. Sure, there's a bed in a bedroom, but if sex is what people have in mind they don't need a bed. A girl won't do something in her bedroom that she hasn't already done somewhere else.

My bedroom happens to be the best place in the house to study because it is quiet, private and has a desk in it. Thanks for letting me blow off a little steam. — FITCHBERG, MASS.

DEAR FITCH: You are a persuasive young lady -- but you left out a vital part of the father's complaint. The girl's bedroom door was LOCKED. I wish you kids who write so well would read a little better.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: To the guy who signed himself "Aristotle's Brother-in-Law" and wondered what women do all day besides drink coffee and talk on the phone -- I found out when my wife had to go to the hospital. It was during my vacation so I had a real opportunity to play housewife full time.

I cooked three perfectly rotten meals every day, did nine loads of laundry, tried to iron some shirts and work shirts -- scorched the shirts and knocked the buttons off the shirts. I gave up trying to clean the house or make the beds. No sooner did I get one room in shape when the kids tore up the one I had just finished.

How my wife manages to keep up the house and yard, market, cook, wash and iron, take the kids to the dentist and Scouts, sew costumes for them, bake cakes and pies, do club work and drive her mother around, is beyond me.

The average American housewife is a miracle worker. Any guy who doubts it should try to walk in her tennis shoes for a couple of days. — SMARTER NOW

DEAR SMARTER: That sound you hear is millions of women blowing you kisses.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For five years, ever since Jean and our son Rob have been married, they have spent Mother's Day, Father's Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and the 4th of July with the other grandparents. We get them on St. Patrick's Day and Labor Day.

This year we want Jean and Rob and the grandchildren with us for Thanksgiving or Christmas. My husband had a heart attack in April and his health is not good. Jean's parents are much younger than we are and they will probably have many more years to enjoy the little ones. Shall I speak to Jean's parents about releasing them? — WISHING FAIRNESS

DEAR WISH: Releasing them from what? Did they sign a contract in blood? Talk to your son and Jean. Tell them how you feel. If they are interested in being fair, they will agree to alternate the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays -- one with you and the other with Jean's parents.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Society Honors Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Say

The Women's Missionary Association of the Sugar Grove Presbyterian Church held a reception after the Sunday morning worship service in honor of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Say's Golden Anniversary. Before the morning service began, Mrs. Robert Morgan presented to the honored couple a boutonniere and corsage of bronze mums on behalf of the congregation.

During the morning service Donna Wilson and Patrick Sweeney sang "I'll Walk Beside You" in honor of the Says. The serving table for the reception was centered with yellow and gold mums arranged by Mrs. Morgan. The cake, which was decorated with wedding bells, miniature roses and entwined hearts in various shades of yellow and white, was decorated by Mrs. Allan Conboy and served by Mrs. John Stuart. Serving the ice cream was Mrs. Lloyd Williams.

The president of the association, Mrs. Scott Stuart Sr., poured the coffee and Mrs. Morgan served punch. The committee for the reception was comprised of Walter Sweeney, Mrs. Williams, and Mrs. Conboy.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR FOLKS: Have you seen those pretty, decorative spray-cologne bottles that are covered with gold metal filigree and have a gold top?

If you have one, when you use all that "good smelling stuff," don't you dare throw that beautiful bottle away!

Today I made the discovery of the century!

Did you know it makes a perfectly gorgeous candleholder and cover? It sure does...

The top usually has prongs inside that will brace a candle securely and it makes a perfect holder. And by removing the gold filigree from the bottle, it makes a beautiful lace cover.

Now here's how I removed the gold filigree from the bottle:

Mine had a little plastic ring on the bottom to keep the filigree from slipping off. So I laid the bottle in a pan of warm, soapy water for about ten minutes. (That softened the plastic and made it easy to cut.) I then removed the bottle from the water and dried it good.

Using my small paring knife, I cut off the plastic and slid the gold filigree right off. I stuck one of my partially burned candles (and what else can you do with 'em?) in the "holder" and slipped the filigree over it. Beautiful!

By the way, this is perfect for using all of those ends of tall candles which have been partly burned. Just the right height to use on your patio, dining table, coffee table or anywhere you like and it looks like a million dollars.

The cover protects the candle from drafts, saves drips and prevents the candle from burning unevenly. It also softens the glow of the candle.

So gals, if you've got one of those gorgeous cologne bottles, when it's empty, try to salvage that filigree and make yourself a pretty candleholder and cover.

Real easy and takes only a few minutes of your time. You'll love it. I do mine. Heloise

"COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE"

SELECTING A SOFA is often the single most important decision you'll make in decorating your home. Cost is one reason, since the sofa is one of the largest pieces you will buy.

Even more significant, the sofa sets the style of your living room. If you favor the popular trend towards elegance, you'll want a sofa whose grace of line and richness of fabric will set the elegant tone of the room. While it is possible and often very effective to mix different styles or periods in the same room, it is a good rule to choose the sofa in the room's dominant style, whether it be modern, contemporary or traditional.

Because of its size, the sofa is also a vital key to your color scheme. For instance, you can choose a fabric with several colors, in a print or striped pattern, and pick up the various colors in other pieces of furniture and in the walls and carpeting. Or you can select a fabric for your sofa similar to the background color, leaving you free to accessorize with contrasting colors.

Give a lot of thought to the sofa before you choose -- you won't replace it very often. And be sure to see our selection of fine sofas and sectionals, available in a wide range of decorator fabrics.

If the Shoe Fits

James R. Valone

Footsaver Education DO ILL-FITTING SHOES AFFECT A CHILD'S DISPOSITION?

The obvious answer is "yes" but shoe men would differ. Probably 95% of the children's shoes that we take off are outgrown, and the only unhappy children are those who can't have the style they want. Contrary to all of that evidence, we frequently hear that babies are fussy until their mothers take off the outgrown shoes. That seems to be quite conclusive, but mothers whose babies wear corrective casts or braces usually report that the babies don't seem to mind a bit. In view of the conflicting evidence, we can be sure that it is not safe to allow children to wear tight shoes with any confidence that they will get crabby before they get bunions.

Marty Meddock Wins TMO Football Contest

A new record was set in the Times-Mirror and Observer football contest this week as the Sports Department received 507 entries, breaking the old mark of 456 set early in last year's contest. Despite the numerous ballots, the outcome was close. Fourteen-year-old Marty Meddock clinched first place as he totaled 18 right, the only one entering to do so.

The second and third spots were harder to decide, however, as fifteen people picked 17 right. Relying on the tie breaker and its impartial decision, the judges found that Lucille Miller placed second and Goldie Hecei third.

Mrs. Miller was five points away from the tie breaker score while Mrs. Hecei ran right behind her with only a six point difference in the tie breaker.

Meddock chalked up a perfect score in the high school division and only missed the New York-Buffalo upset in pro ball. His one mistake in the college division was Princeton-Rutgers. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Meddock of RD 1 Clarendon and attends Beatty Junior High School.

The Meddock family are true T-M-O football fans with everyone in the family, five in all, entering the contest every week.

Mrs. Miller is also a resident of Clarendon, living on 49 Railroad st. She missed the same ones Meddock did, including the Boston-Denver game. Her tie breaker pick was Chicago 26, Minnesota 21 and with the final score being Chicago 27-Minnesota 17, she was only off by five.

Mrs. Hecei was tripped by the pro upsets, Buffalo-New York and Detroit-Green Bay. Her other fault was an Irishmen pick over Purdue. Her tie breaker score was Chicago 24, Minnesota 20, putting her six points away from the final score and giving Mrs. Miller a slight edge. The Hecei family resides at 455 Hemlock Road here in Warren.

Fans were a little wary as to whether to pick the Dragons this week after their 34-0 loss last week. Only 72 per cent or 365 out of 507 people chose the Dragons despite reports of the Oilers' weak squad.

People appeared to be reluctant to condemn the Eisenhower Knights after their first bad showing of the season. Only 122 voted against Ike for a 76 per centage in favor. Youngsville spoiled many entries as they picked up their first win of the season. Fifty-two per cent of the entrants picked the Eagles to win, giving them a 264-243 reading.

Sheffield found people skeptical as to whether the Wolverines could beat the Crusaders. A slight majority, 62 per cent, chose the Orange and Black over Elk CC.

The Pro games continued to be the mixups in most entries. With Green Bay falling deeper in the hole, and teams like Buffalo surprising everyone, even the best prognosticator can easily goof up.

Packer fans ran 2-1 in the contest with approximately 375 picking the Football Kings. Buffalo's upset was a real surprise as only 26 per cent of the WILKES — BARRE, Pa. — The Philadelphia 76ers ripped the Boston Celtics 138-115 Monday night for their second National Basketball Association exhibition victory over the world champions in two days. Philadelphia, which won Sunday night's game in Wilmington, Del., 140-100, ran its pre-season winning streak to three. Boston, which dethroned the 76ers last year, is 0-4 on the exhibition trail.

Luke Jackson, replacing the traded Will Chamberlain at center for Philadelphia, sparked the winners with 25 points in 27 minutes.

U.S. Team Not Favored To Win Olympic Medal

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States basketball team, unbeaten in Olympic play, will go into this year's Games without any of the sport's top names and for the first time will not be favored to take the gold medal.

But don't say it too loud. "They think they're favored," says Henry Iba, one of the nation's top coaches at Oklahoma State and the 1958 mentor of the Olympians.

"I think we have the best players," Iba, who also coached the victorious Olympic squad in 1960, said after his youngsters knocked off the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association, 65-64 in overtime Saturday night. Sunday, the Olympians were beaten by another NBA club, Cincinnati, 71-63.

"We'll do the best we can," said Iba, 64, whose college teams have won 731 games, while losing only 297. "These boys have heart, desire and self discipline. They want to play."

Some of the glamor names in college basketball who bypassed the Olympic tryouts are Lew Alcindor, Lucius Allen and Mike Warren of national champion UCLA, Westley Unseld, Louisville, Elvin Hayes, Houston, Neil Walk, Florida and Don May, Dayton.

Some claimed they couldn't afford to miss school work, others didn't play because of the feud between amateur organizations, while a few signed professional contracts.

"We're not as strong physically as some of our Olympic teams of the past," Iba said, "but we've got the best shooting team ever and they're very quick. Our biggest problem will be rebounding."

Blass Gets NL Honors

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pittsburgh's Steve Blass, who won five of six decisions in September, including three straight shutouts, has been named the National League's Player of the Month for September.

A panel of 50 baseball writers and broadcasters participating in the monthly poll cast 30 ballots for Blass, who had won nine consecutive contests before losing Saturday.

Blass finished with an 18-6 record and two of his losses were by 1-0 scores.

Willie Mays of San Francisco compiled a .367 batting average through games of Sept. 25 with five home runs and 17 runs batted in and was named on eight ballots.

Chicago's Glen Beckert, who received six votes, hit at a .380 clip during the same period as Mays.

Billy Williams of the Cubs received six votes on the strength of his .318 average through Sept. 25 games with eight home runs and 17 RBI.

The rebounding will fall into the hands of 6-foot-8 center Spencer Haywood, from Trinidad State Junior College, who scored 17 and 12 points against the NBA clubs and held his own under the boards.

Haywood's understudy will be Ken Spain from Houston, 6-9, and forwards Bill Hosket, 6-7½, Ohio State; Mike Silliman, 6-6, U.S. Army; Don Dee, 6-7, St. Mary of the Plains; and James King, 6-7 of the AAU Akron Goodyears.

Boosters To Meet

The Warren Sports Boosters will hold their weekly meeting on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Warren High School cafeteria. Films of the Warren-Oil City game will be shown, and the coaching staff of the Dragons will be on hand to discuss the films and Saturday's game with Meadville.

The Board of directors will meet at 8 p.m.

Umps Will Be At Series

CHICAGO (AP) — Major league umpires met Monday and decided not to hold a World Series strike but agreed on a general strike next spring unless two discharged American League umpires are reinstated.

Salerno and Bill Valentine, both recently fired by American League President Joe Cronin, prevailed on the group not to hold a World Series strike.

Salerno and Valentine issued a joint statement saying, "We do not wish to deprive the American people and baseball fans of their annual classic due to the wrongful conduct of one man."

Meanwhile, the American League umpires voted to form a joint association with the National League umpires.

Jack Reynolds, a Chicago attorney who helped organize the Association of National League Umpires in 1963, presided at the meeting and announced the National League had unanimously agreed to take the rival league umpires into their association and rename it the Major League Umpires Association.

Salerno, 37 and an umpire in the American League since 1961 and Valentine, 35, an AL umpire since 1962 were fired Sept. 16 by Cronin, who claimed they were incompetent.

Negro Quarterback Starts For Denver

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Coach Lou Saban of the American Football League Denver Broncos said Monday Marlin Briscoe, first Negro ever to see action at quarterback in the AFL, would start Sunday in a home game against the Cincinnati Bengals.

"He deserves a chance," said Saban. "He did well and obviously put some spark into our game."

Saban referred to an eight-minute appearance by Briscoe in last Sunday's 20-17 loss to the Boston Patriots. Briscoe scored one touchdown and kept the Boston defense loose with his halfback-style running.

NEA's Grayson Dies at 74

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry Grayson, former sports editor of Newspaper Enterprise Association and the San Francisco Bulletin, died in St. Luke's Hospital Monday night. He was 74 and had been ill with cancer for the past year.

For more than 30 years, Grayson served as NEA sports editor.

Penn State Chosen Top Eastern Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Penn State, bidding for its second straight Lambert Trophy, was a unanimous choice Monday as the top major college (Division I) football team in the east in the first of weekly balloting by an eight-man selection committee.

The Nittany Lions, 2-0, had 80 points in the voting based on 10 for a first place, nine for second, etc., while Syracuse, 1-1, was second with 70.

Next in order came Boston College, 1-0, 64; Yale, 1-0, 46; Rutgers, 2-0, 45; and Army, 1-1, 35.

The selection committee is composed of athletic directors, sports writers and sportscasters.

Grambling Integrates With White Quarterback!

NEW YORK (AP) — Coach Eddie Robinson, who in his 27 years at Grambling has built the little Negro college into a nationally known football power, quietly and without fanfare is working on a new play — reverse integration.

Industrial Loop Holds Banquet

Members of the Crescent Distributors' golf team each carried away a trophy and six golf balls from Saturday's Warren County Industrial Golf League banquet, held at the Jackson Valley Country Club.

Pat Hartnett, Ralph Pedersen, Gary Swanson, Fred Swanson, Phil Anderson and Chuck Johnson are the Distributors' members who won the award for their title performance during the league's play this past summer.

Sunray Products' team took runner-up honors. Each Sunray member was awarded five golf balls. The next four finishing teams also received prizes.

Joe Brindis received a special award for the best average, while Tomassoni Nursery earned the Joe Maley Trophy for the team posting the five lowest scores in the league tournament.

Officers elected for the 1969 season include Walt Confer, president; Hughie Carpenter, vice president; Boots Smith, statistician; and Bill Lord, secretary-treasurer.

Robinson shies from direct discussion of the issue, but when Grambling arrived in New York for last Saturday's game against Morgan State, the traveling squad included Jim Gregory of Corcoran, Calif., a 170-pound quarterback whose skin is white.

And while Robinson will only say that Gregory "expressed a desire to play football at Grambling," there are those who say there is more to it than that.

One of those people is Buddy Young, a friend of Robinson's and a former pro football star now a member of the staff of pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Young tells it this way: "Eddie got sick and tired of everyone saying Grambling was a Negro school that played football. He feels it's an educational institution that also recruits athletes and gives them a chance to exploit their talents."

"Eddie had been looking for a white athlete for three years. The purpose was simple — to show people that predominantly Negro schools are as open as white schools should be, especially in the South."

And now Robinson has his instrument in Gregory, who is the first white boy every to put on a Grambling football uniform, and is well aware of the role for which he has been fitted.

"It's a great step in breaking the color line in another way," Gregory says. "I thought it was a great opportunity to become the first white football player at Grambling. But not just because of that, I didn't care too much about race distinction."

"I decided in high school that I wanted to play football and that Grambling was the best school I could play for."

A freshman, Gregory hasn't thrown a pass yet for Grambling, but is getting the very same training that every Negro quarterback at the school does.

The only problem has been getting to play because the door right now is barred by senior Jimmy Harris, a talented passer.

But Gregory understands that.

"With all the talent around here," he says, "freshmen rarely get to play. Maybe next year."

'Little Things' Hurt Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. AP — "Little things mean a lot" was a popular song a few years ago. The Green Bay Packers were singing the same tune Monday. The "little things" resulted Sunday in Green Bay's 23-17 loss to the Detroit Lions. The defeat left the defending National Football League champions with a 1-2 record and tied for last in the Central Division.

"Basically, we have to score more points and allow fewer," Packers' Coach Phil Bengtson said.

"We have to get more consistent," he big, analyzing his team's defeat. "In order to win we're going to have to eliminate the little mistakes."

Defensive end Willie Davis echoed the coach.

"We are at a point where we are still an inch away," Davis said. "Whatever sacrifice we have to make, go that one inch will have to be done."

Against the Lions, Green Bay jumped out to quick 10-0 lead on Bart Starr's 63-yard touchdown pass to Clroll Dale and a 38-yard field goal by Jerry Kramer.

No Gamble For Mayo In Series

DETROIT (AP) — Mayo Smith, manager of the Detroit Tigers, said Monday he doesn't think he's gambling by starting outfielder Mickey Stanley at shortstop in the World Series against the St. Louis Cardinals.

"If I didn't think he could play it, I wouldn't put him there," Smith said.

"This is not a sentimental gesture to get Al Kaline in the line-up. We're out to win this thing, and by putting an extra bat in the line-up we think we can do it."

Smith, asked about the expected pitching duel in the opening game between Bob Gibson of the Cardinals and Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner said:

"All pitching duels end up disappointing," Smith said. "You match two good pitchers against each other and everybody builds them up as the biggest thing since gangbusters."

"Often one of them gets bombed out . . ."

"Why the about-face? "We missed 3rd and 4th tackles that hurt," Benston said. "And we had a little blocking breakdown."

"The big type of play that we need and used to get in the past, we didn't get," he said. "The other team is coming up with the vital third down play."

"We need a real shot in the arm," Bengtson said.

Dale spoke for the entire team when he said, "I don't think we are going to crawl into a hole."

And Davis said: "The thing we have to do is pretty obvious. We have to be the best football team we can be. The most immediate concern is that we start tomorrow playing the best football we can play."

Norm Cash, a left-handed hitter, hitting .333 since July 27, has been moved to the cleanup spot, pushing Willie Horton, the team's right-handed power slugger down to the fifth position.

Second baseman Dick McAuliffe, a lefthander batting .249, will lead off. Stanley, .259, will be second with Kaline, the team's leading hitter at bat, .287, No. 3.

Second baseman Dick McAuliffe, a lefthander batting .249, will lead off. Stanley, .259, will be second with Kaline, the team's leading hitter at bat, .287, No. 3.

SLOPING PUTTS ARE TRICKY

If you miss putts to the low side of the hole when the cup is set on a slope of the green, you're failing to realize that a putt will take more sidehill break when it nears the cup than it will in its early stages. The slower the ball is rolling, the more it will be affected by this sidehill slant.

In No. 1, we see a putt that must roll on sidehill in its early stages, but on level ground near the hole. In illustration No. 2, we see the opposite. Note that the putt cuts more to the side in illustration No. 2 because the ball encounters the slope when it's rolling slowly.

Purdue Keeps Top Spot In College Football Poll

By MIC BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Purdue Boilermakers increased their lead in The Associated Press college football poll Monday.

The powerful Boilermakers, who trounced Notre Dame 37-22 in the Big Six showdown last Saturday, were named first on all but three of 45 ballots in amassing 894 points.

Southern California edged up a notch into second place, while Notre Dame tumbled from second to fifth Penn State is third and Florida fourth, both up one place from week ago.

And, the shakeup wasn't confined to the top teams. Georgia and Texas A&M moved back into the ratings after dropping out last week, while three others — California, Michigan State and Arkansas — made the Top 20 for the first time.

Southern California, 2-0 after a 24-7 breeze past Northwestern, received only two top votes, but the Trojans were named second on 37 ballots in rolling up 797 points.

Penn State, which made Kansas State its second straight victim 25-9, had 568 points and Florida, a 9-3 conqueror of arch-rival Florida State, had 441.

Ohio State leaped all the way from 11th to sixth with a 34-14 victory over Southern Methodist in its opener, and Nebraska, 3-0, moved from ninth to seventh after beating Minnesota 17-14 — a defeat that knocked the Gophers (17th last week) out of the rankings.

Kansas vaulted from 12th to eighth on the strength of a 38-20 thrashing of Indiana (13th a week ago) that also dropped the Hoosiers from among the rated.

UCLA slipped a spot to ninth despite a 31-21 victory over Washington State and Louisiana State is 10th, up four places, after subduing Rice 21-7.

Les Rettberg Leads PGA Play

JAMESTOWN — Les Rettberg, Jackson Valley Country Club's pro, did himself proud the past two days, winning the Seniors Division play in the Western New York PGA Championships, sharing one-third of first place in Sunday's Pro Member tournament, and currently holding down second place in the overall Western New York PGA championships, all at McRobb Country Club here.

Playing with Jerry Weise, Harold Sanford, and Sam Mason, Sr., on Sunday, Rettberg toured the course in 69, to tie with Rochester Oak Hill assistant pro Dan Murphy for low professional honors, and to share the top team slot with Murphy's and Olean Bartlett CC's Jim McCoy's team.

Playing with Murphy on Sunday were Harold Carling, Don Marshall and Jack Nolan; McCoy went around with Sam Mason, Jr., Dale Goldstein, and Ward Belknap.

Runner-up to Rettberg in the age 50-and-over Senior Division was Lockport's Howie De Angelis, who shot a 77 to Les's 73. Corry's Joe Oliver and Rochester's Iphigeneis' Frank Comisso tied for third at 78.

Murphy and Rochester's Lucost Hill assistant Bob Mannus currently lead the overall Western New York PGA Tourney.

Warren Golfers Clip Meadville

Freshman Dan Phillips fired a par on the Conewango Valley Country Club's 18th hole to insure Warren High's golfers of their third win of the season, a 9-4-6-1 triumph over previously unbeaten Meadville, Monday afternoon.

Jon Sculze earned medalist honors for the Dragons with 43-40-83, while Meadville's Don Baker led his contingent with 85.

The Dragons played without the services of Pat Murphy, sidelined with a dislocated shoulder.

Warren JV Team Wins

KANE — Coach Chuck Mullen had to wait until the fourth quarter, but his Warren High Jayvees didn't disappoint him — quarterback Jeff Fralley found paydirt on a one-foot dive to give the Little Dragons their first win of the season 7-0 over Kane's JVs here Monday.

George Abel, who had been getting ground all day for the Little Dragons, added the extra point. Warren spent most of the afternoon mounting drives against Kane, only to lose the ball on fumbles or turnovers.

The Dragon defense turned in a parking performance, especially against the Wolves' passing attack. Dan Swanson lured one of four interceptions for a 50-yard return to highlight the unit's work.

Warren hosts Ridgway on Oct. 14, goes to Titusville on the 21st and closes out the season at the against Erie Kanty Prep on the 28th.

Newcombe Nets Win

PREROGIA, South Africa (AP) — last year's Wimbledon single champion, John Newcombe beat fellow Australian Tony Roche 11-4, 4-6, 6-2 Monday, ending the final of the Transil Province Professional Tennis Championships.

McCarver, Cepeda To Lead Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Tim McCarver and Orlando Cepeda, who have paralleled each other in performance for two years, may hold the St. Louis Cardinals' hopes for defending their crown in the 1968 World Series against the Detroit Tigers starting Wednesday in St. Louis.

When the Cardinals won the National League pennant a year ago Cepeda and McCarver were 1-2 in the league's Most Valuable Player voting. Cepeda hit .325 and drove in 111 runs. McCarver, .295 with 69 RBI. Then in the World Series against the Boston Red Sox, Cepeda hit only .103, McCarver .125.

This year Cepeda tailed off to a .248 batting average. McCarver, to .253. Now the question is: Will they snap back in unison and each have a great Series?

Manager Red Schoendienst thinks they may be coming around just in time.

When the season drew to a close Sunday Schoendienst commented, "I think Cepeda and McCarver have been hitting better now than they have all year."

If they continue, they could offset the Tigers' big edge in home runs. The Tigers hit 185 homers during the season, compared to the Cardinals' 73.

"I can't make up for the year I had and I don't consider it a bad year," McCarver said. "We won the pennant and how many players can feel they have had a bad year if their team won the pennant?"

Cepeda hopes to make up for the year he had, or at least rub a little of the tarnish off it.

"Having a good Series is a challenge for me," Cepeda said. "People see what you do in a few days and if I have a good Series they'll forget I had a bad year. Some people said I got tired or choked against Boston."

Atlanta Coach May Be Finished

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons apparently plan to decide this week whether to fire Coach Norb Hecker or give him the rest of the season to snap his football team out of a slump.

Top officials of the National Football League team have agreed, it was learned Monday, that an announcement on Hecker's status should be made in the next few days.

The Falcons reportedly have been considering a change for some time because of widespread criticism of the team's losing streak, which now has stretched to 10 games.

An executive of another NFL club has said that he believes Norm Van Brocklin already is on the Falcons' payroll, and the Atlanta Journal said Monday it has been told that the former Minnesota Viking coach may be given Hecker's job.

The decision is up to Rankin Smith, insurance company executive who owns the Falcons. "Anytime you are losing, you hear a lot of rumors," Smith told the Journal.

Hecker, former Green Bay assistant who has been under fire from Atlanta fans, said "I haven't been told anything. As far as I'm concerned, I'm the coach until they make a change. But these rumors make it difficult for the coaching staff."

Hecker was given a four-year contract when he was hired to coach the newly organized Falcons in 1966, and it was extended a year reportedly giving him financial security through 1970.

Sparta Wins 5th In UAVL Play

PLEASANTVILLE — Jerry Linden and Dave Boythe, on base via singles, both came home on an error to insure Spartansburg of its fifth Upper Allegheny Valley League baseball victory, a 3-1 decision over Pleasantville, here Monday.

The Spartans added an insurance run in the seventh inning when Boyce singled home Mark Kolaja.

Pleasantville had taken a 1-0 lead in the third inning when Pat Turner was walked home with the bases loaded.

The victory puts Sparta in at least a tie for first place in the league, depending on the outcome of the East Forest game. Spartansburg 000 0021-3 8 3 Pleasantville 001 000 0-13 2 Sparta: Linden and Boythe; Pleasantville: Atkins and Fleming.

"Just say I'm not too worried about looking for a job," said Hecker.

Van Brocklin, who coached Minnesota from its start in 1961 until he left the Vikings after the 1966 season, is a controversial figure in the NFL. He once quit his job as Viking coach for a week, and before he left for good a personal feud developed between him and former Minnesota quarterback Fran Tarkenton now with the New York Giants.

Van Brocklin told the Journal by telephone from Minneapolis that "I have no comment at all on the Atlanta situation."

Smith has blamed much of Atlanta's building problems on the fact that "we blew the draft in 1967" when none of the 1966 college standouts chosen by the Falcons wound up on the team.

He reportedly has given orders to go with youngsters this year, and Hecker has been shuffling players all fall. Only offensive back that was in summer camp and started against San Francisco Sunday was quarterback Randy Johnson.

The Falcons got off to a fast start in their 1966 debut, winning three games. But they won only once in 1967, losing their last seven games last fall, and now have been beaten in all three 1968 starts.

Criticism of Hecker spread when the Falcons were whipped 47-7 in their opener this fall by Minnesota.

OH, BROTHER!

'Holiday Star--Vietnam' Cheers GIs Wounded in Viet

State Senator Clarence D. Bell (9th district) in recent communications has enclosed information concerning a project titled "Holiday Star-Vietnam," which appears to be attracting considerable interest among individuals.

It is noted that in Vietnam, many young men lie wounded, injured or sick in military hospitals or on Navy Hospital ships.

Since October, 1966, thousands of gift packages have been mailed by those back home who remember these hospital beds are filled each year and thousands wounded every month.

The suggestion is made that an individual might mail at least one package a month to show support of men in combat in Vietnam. Name and address of the sender should appear on the package.

A package should contain candy, gum, pre-sweetened cool drink powder and other like items that would be enjoyed by a teenager lying in a hospital half way around the world. A package should not exceed five pounds and mailed straight parcel post (to be delivered by air mail). Contents should be dirt-proof, moistureproof and insect proof.

The following San Francisco, Calif. addresses are provided: Any patient, C.O. the Chaplain, 1st Force Hospital(USMC)FPO 96337; Naval Hospital Ship Repose, FPO 96601; Naval Hospital Ship Sanctuary, FPO 96001; 2nd Surgical Hospital, APO 96490; 7th Surgical Hospital, APO 96225; 45th Surgical Hospital, APO 96256; 3rd Field Hospital, APO 96307; 8th Field Hospital, APO 96240.

Geology, Petroleum Production Classes Slated Here by PSU

Pennsylvania State University will offer two courses in Warren this fall in geology and petroleum production technology.

William E. Mosso, assistant director for Continuing Education at Behrend Campus, Pennsylvania State University said the courses to be offered are "Petroleum Production Technology" and "Secondary Recovery of Oil."

Classes will meet once a week at the Warren Area High School, beginning early in October.

Instructor for both courses will be Carl R. Burchardt, geologist for the Pennsylvania Gas Company here in Warren.

This is the seventh season for "Petroleum Productions Technology." The course covers the basic principles of geology and their application to oil and gas accumulation, also the technology and gas production, including the modern techniques of electrical well logging and hydraulic fracturing.

"Secondary Recovery of Oil" is being offered for the first time in the Warren area. The course will cover the basic principles and requirements for the recovery of additional oil after natural production has been exhausted. Although concerned primarily with water flooding, recent new techniques and developments will also be discussed.

There is no charge for either course.

Further information can be secured by contacting Mr. Burchardt at 723-1799 in Warren, or at the Pennsylvania Gas Company office in Warren.
